

Elsamprojekt Polska acquired by Danish company Ramboll

On 1 November 2011, Danish engineering, design and consultancy company Ramboll acquired Warsaw-based energy engineering consultancy Elsamprojekt Polska, which has since 1990 been owned by Danish energy utility DONG Energy A/S.

Adding to Ramboll's 10,000 strong workforce around the world, Elsamprojekt Polska will become Ramboll's hub from which to promote know-how on environmental and sustainable energy technologies to the Polish energy sector.

About Elsamprojekt Polska

Based in Warsaw, Elsamprojekt Polska provides engineering consultancy services to professional international and public power sector clients on e.g. biomass conversion.

About Ramboll

Founded in Denmark in 1945, Ramboll has a strong presence in Northern Europe, Russia, India and the Middle East. With more than 200 offices in 23 countries Ramboll emphasises local experience combined with a global knowledge-base.

With a service offering directed toward sectors within Energy & Climate, Buildings & Design, Environment & Nature, Infrastructure & Transport, Industry and Oil & Gas, Energy & Climate, Management & Society and Telecom, Ramboll's acquisition of Elsamprojekt Polska falls neatly within the strategic goal of geographic expansion to emerging growth markets.

Managing director of Ramboll Energy, Mr. Thomas Rand, states: "Entering into the Polish market has been part of our expansion strategy for some time. Our choosing Elsamprojekt Polska as a first step into the market is based on our previous cooperation with the company on various energy projects and our knowledge of their specialists. Also, Elsamprojekt Polska has a Code of Conduct and a set of ethical rules that meet our strict requirements, and an international mindset that makes the company a very good match with Ramboll."

On the market potential in Poland Mr. Rand says: "Denmark has during the past 20 years accumulated knowledge of environmental and sustainable energy technologies that is second-to-none and represents a strong market opportunity in view of the upcoming Polish energy sector investments. In that context expertise on e.g. biomass will become pivotal, and will call upon the knowledge found in the joined forces between Elsamprojekt Polska and Ramboll."
